

Boston Women's Fund

Presents

Malcolm X:

Portrait of a Human Rights Activist

February 22 through February 26, 2010

Massachusetts State House

Doric Hall

9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily

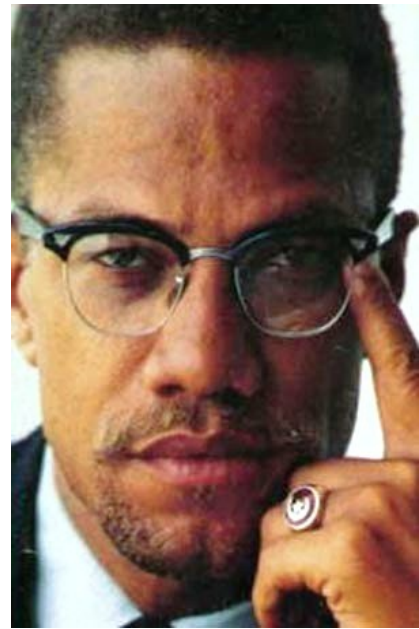

Photo: Robert L. Haggins

Exhibition courtesy of Sharon Dunn and the Museum of the National Center of Afro-American Artists, Edmund Barry Gaither, Director

Introducing

Men Take A Stand

"Breaking Barriers — Building Justice"

In celebration of

Black History Month

&

The 25th Anniversary
Of Boston Women's Fund

Boston Women's Fund leverages financial resources to support women-led grassroots activism and social change. BWF grant-making and programs go beyond immediate needs, to generate long-lasting solutions which benefit all women and the whole community.

Photography Robert L. Haggins

African American photographer Robert L. Haggins (1922-2006) is best known for his photographs of Malcolm X during the late 1950's to mid-1960's. A close friend and collaborator in the anti-racist movement, Haggins' brilliant work offers an intimate portrait of Malcolm X.

Mixed-Media Art Sharon Dunn

Mass College of Art professor Sharon Dunn has exhibited her work galleries and museums in England and Cuba and around the USA, including the Museum of the National Center of Afro-American Artists in Boston and the African American Museum in Philadelphia. The daughter of Robert Haggins, she inherited his passion for art and social change.

Special Reception

Tuesday, February 23

3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Massachusetts State House
Nurses Hall

For Information, Call: 617-725-0035