

Dr. Fatima Watt Bio

Dr. Fatima Watt received her Doctorate in Clinical Psychology at the Georgia School of Professional Psychology, and she completed her clinical training in pediatric psychology at Children’s Healthcare of Atlanta-Egleston. She completed an internship and postdoctoral fellowship at Franciscan Children’s in Brighton, MA, where she remained for 12 years, eventually becoming the Vice President and Director of Behavioral Health Services. Dr. Watt is currently the CEO of Pappas Rehabilitation Hospital for Children, one of the four Public Health Hospitals under the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. In 2023, she received a Master’s in Public Administration from Suffolk University. She is committed to health equity and caring for underserved populations, including low-income, medically and psychiatrically complex, and racially diverse youth and families.